iders Takes Steeplechase for J. W. Colt Jublice Trims Bellwether at Even Weights-Oraculum Breezes Home -Workman and Ferry Landing Score.

WASHINGTON, March 28. - A crowd of nearly 10,000 racing enthusiasts, including bundreds of society people, attended the sport at the Sennings track this afternoon, the card ming the most attractive since the opening of the meeting. Speculation, while not o he plunging variety, was brisk and every inner received liberal support. The weather as clear and the track in excellent condi-

A feature was the Washington Nursery at four and a half furlongs, the first twoyear-old stake to be run in the East this season. John E. Madden had three starters, Iskahira, Clef and Witching Hour, and they were coupled in the speculation. Opening at 6 to 5, they receded to 9 to 5, only to be re duced to 8 to 5 at the last moment. W. H. Morby's Balbek, by Handsome, was solidly layed and his odds dropped from 5 to 3. feanwhile James McLaughlin's Kinley Mack fly, Personal, believed to be the best filly slown here so far, was loyally supported at the odds falling a couple of points at the ust moment

At the start Personal broke like a flash and proceeded to cut out a hot pace. Clef and Huldy went after her while Takahira was knocked back at the far turn. In the stretch Takahira began to make up the lost ground with so much stamina that McCahey, ooking back, had to go to a drive with Personal. It was a sharply drawn finish in which Personal, tiring, managed to win by half a ength with Takahira in the place, three engths before Balbek, who was interfered with in the early stages but ran a game race and beat Bonnie Kelso, to to 1, a head for hird place. The time was 0.57 1-5.

J. W. Colt, whose stable of jumpers appears o be invincible just now, saw his colors arried to victory in the handicap steeplehase, at about two miles and a half. Kara receded from 4 to 5 to 6 to 5, but he proved o be much the best. Newt Fisher, coupled with Bessie Kiser at 20 to 1, started off with much early speed that he had a lead of ifty lengths in the first round of the course. But near the last obstacle he stopped to nothing as Essex, 5 to 1, with Mr. Dion Keer ip, and Bersi caught him. Then Bersi quit and Kars under a patient ride from McInerney ame with a gallant rush in the stretch, winning easily by four lengths, with Essex lastng long enough to beat Huddy, backed down o 5, by a neck for the place. Huddy was kept too far out of the race in the early stages else he might have done better. The entire field jumped in splendid style. The time

Bellwether, winner of the Bennings Handiap last Monday, met his match in Fred ittlefield's Compute colt Jubilee in the Potomac Purse, for three-year-olds, at six furlongs. Each carried 111 pounds, Bellwether being a hot favorite at 7 to 10, while wether being a hot favorite at 7 to 10, while Jubilee was well taken at 13 to 10. It was a two horse race all the way. Bellwether had plenty of speed at the outset and showed the way for about half a mile. Then Shaw, who had been waiting in behind with Jubilee, got busy, and the son of compute breezed to the front and easily defeated Bellwether by a length and a half in 1:16. Bill Daly bloked up third money with Winning Star, do to 1, who was ten lengths away.

George Odom's Oraculum was himself in the second race, for platers, at five and a half furiongs. He was a heavily backed favorite, at 11 to 10, made all the running and won in a galloo by two lengths in 1:09 4-5. Under a poor ride by T. Burns, Billie Hibbs, 1 to 2 second choice, rushed into the place, 1 length and a half before King of Bashan, backed from 15 down to 7.

Workman and Greeno, equal favorites at 5 to 2, had the first race, for platers, at seven furlongs, between them. Workman had all kinds of speed and cutting out the pace he was returned a handy winner by three parts of a length in 130. Greeno, with Shaw up, was second all the way and finished two lengths in front of Servile, 10 to 1. The latter was second all the way am ninshed two lengths in front of Servile, 10to 1. The latter came from nowhere and beat Lally, 6 to 1, a balf length for third money. Brookdale, 60 to 1, after showing a good turn of speed quit in the homestretch.

Ferry Landing, 8 to 5 favorite, won the last rest for maiden, at severa and a half fur-event, for maidens, at seven and a half fur-iongs. He led all the way, but seemed to be bearen at the last sixteenth pole. But he was game and stood a hard drive to win by a head from Billy B. van, 9 to 5. with Bill Daly's Grace Cameron, 3 to 1, third. The time was 1:38. Four favorites and a second choice rewarded the talent, the books being hard hit. Little McCahey rode two winners and carried off the saddle honors. The sum-maries: event, for maidens, at seven and a half FIRST RACE.

ANOTHER RACING CRUSADE.

Local Feeling Against Corrigan May Pro-

veke Ban on the Sport in Louisiana. NEW OBLEANS, March 28 .- The elimination of the local stockholders from the New Orleans Jockey Club, which has been under consideration all winter is about to take place To-day Sam F. Heaslip, the local end of the organization, announced he had given Edward Corrigan an option on 400 shares of his stock. The method of Corrigan in dominating the entire situation is said to be the cause for Heaslip and the local people withdrawing

The reform movement to abolish racing in Louisiana has been under way for almost two weeks, and with the local feeling against Corrigan the game may be killed in the session of the Legislature, which meets next month. It was rumored to-day that the Cella interests have thrown down the gauntlet of either buy or sell to the Harrison, Brewster and Bennett faction, who are interested in the Fair Grounds.

TRAP SHOOTING.

New York A. C. Beats Vale in Team Match at Travers Island.

The Yale University Gun Club and the New York A. C. met in a dual match at Travers Island yesterday, and the Winged Foot marksmen won by 33 targets on the grand total. The conditions of the match called for a six man team, each shooter to get 100 targets. As far as the indiv dual work went Pugsley of Yale had a trifle the best of it, for he was the only man to break a straight 25, and this occurred in the second round. His total was 89 and he tied with Elias of the home team, whose figures were the same. On the whole, the work of the New York A. C. was more consistent and this was their strongest point. CHANGE OF POLICY ABOUT SCHOOLBOY ROWING.

Clinton and Commerce Want to Have Crews and Will Pay Expenses, but Boys' High Isn't Willing-Central of Philadelphia Drops Clinton From Football Schedule.

The policy of the Public Schools Athletic league in regard to rowing in the high schools has been changed and efforts are now being made to conduct the race in the same manner as last year. This change of plans was brought about by the desire of several of the Manhattan schools to support crews, although the league announced that there would be no race. Early this spring the High School of Commerce and De Witt Clinton began to make arrangements for crews, just as they did last year, and signified their intention of having a dual race if nothing better turned up. Several other schools, including Horace Mann, followed their example.

The Harlem Regatta Association, which conducted the race at its regatta last May. then came out with the statement that it would hold another race this year open to any school which cared to enter, and that the winning crew would be sent to Philadelphia to take part in the Schuylkill regatta The reason that led the P. S. A. L. to abandon the project of a race in the first place was that it was thought that the schools would be unwilling to pay the expenses incidental to it. The league is unable to do so as it is itself very short of funds at present. Letters were sent to the several schools two weeks ago, asking them to state their willingness or unwillingness to enter crews, on the condition that the schools themselves should be responsible for any damage to boats and be responsible for any damage to boats and other equipment borrowed from the boat clubs. De Witt Chinton and the High School of Commerce have replied affirmatively. Boys' High has refused to entertain the project, because of the expense and of the lack of a convenient place to train an eight. The rowing clubs on the Harlem are willing to lend their boats to the schools and John E. Nagle of the Harlem Rowing Club has again offered his services as a coach. Nothing more will be done, however, until more schools are heard from.

The Central High School of Philadelphia has dropped the De Witt Clinton High School of this city from its football schedule. The game was held annually alternately at New York and Philadelphia. The reason given by the Quakers for their action is that inter-

York and Philadelphia. The reason given by the Quakers for their action is that interest in the games has fallen off because their teams invariably win by a large score. The gate receipts do not come anywhere near to paying expenses. The score of the last game between the two schools was 39 to 0 in favor of Philadelphia.

The games with Boys High of Brooklyn as well as the Baltimore and Washington Heights schools are retained. All these but the last named are to be played at Philadel-as well as the Baltimore and Washington Heights schools are retained. All these but the last named are to be played at Philadelphia. Boys High was defeated by Central High School by the same score as was De Witt Clinton last sesson, but a large crowd attended the game. The fact that the Brooklyn lads improved greatly in the latter part of the season also probably led Central to keep them on the schedule.

A good sized baseball squad is still out at Erasmus Hall High School and is in such shape that the team will soon be picked. Coach Callahan is working out his pitchers and giving his infield men plenty of practice in connecting with bunts and liners. The fielders are also coming in for their share of attention. Among the candidates for the box Clayton and Quigley are the most promising. Quigley comes from Public School 19, one clayton and Quigjey are the most promis-ing. Quigley comes from Public School 10, which won the elementary school champion-ship last year. Jack Sibley, who pitched last year, is with a minor professional league in California. Cotter will probably play third this spring and Muskowitz is making a strong bid for second. Soully is trying for first california. Cotter will probably play third this spring and Muskowitz is making a strong bid for second. Scully is trying for first. The last two are also basketball players. Noonan, who played on Manual last year, has entered the school and is trying for one of the infield positions. England, the hurdler, seems a likely candidate for shortstop. Beckwith is trying to make second. Woods will in all probability catch. Cy Jones, Frost, Dietrich and Renard are candidates for the outfield positions.

The baseball authorities of the school have announced for the first time the reason for withdrawing from the P. S. A. L. baseball league. They say they were compelled to choose between their old contests, which all came on Saturdays, and those in the new league, in which the games also come on the same days. They preferred to continue the old games and so withdrew from the league.

The schedule which has just been announced contains sixteen games, seven of which are at home and the rest either out of town or on the grounds of some other Brookiyn school. The school paper, the Frasmian, in an editorial commenting on the new system of elections for the general organization, which is really the athletic association of the school, says that a great improvement has been made over the old system. It asserts that a great evil which is prevalent in all schools, namely fraternity control of athletics, has been done away with. The editorial is in part as follows:

The new ballot system of electing the general organization candidates seems to have met with the approval of the entire school. The old method of nomination and election by delegates has been abolished. No longer may a party scheme to elect one of its followers a delegate. No longer are signed agreements between fraternities and societies held binding. It seems to us that the bad features of the old system have been removed without in any way interfering with the good. Under the old system it was seldom that one candidate was elected without the entire ticket. That this fault has been remedied was shown in the last elections, when one candidate from each party was chosen."

F. G. Crafts has for the second time been chosen to lead the Poly track team. Crafsts is a high jumper and pole vaulter of ability. He is sure of winning several events in a track meet and was the only one of his school to score in the Poly open games this winter.

The basketball team will have for its captain next year J. Ressort. Ressort was for three years a forward on the Mount Pleasant Academy team before he entered Poly last fall. Indoor track practice at Commercial High is being helped along by several of theteachers who coach the boys in the gymnasium three afternoons every week. Each man takes charge of a certain branch of the work and tries to improve his charges in that special line. When the outdoor season begins an effort will be made to have some of the members of the last Olympic team coach the boys.

At a recent meeting of the Commercial Athletic Association several elections were held and some important matters passed upon. T. Gallagher and P. Newton were the candidates for baseball manager. Gallagher won by a small majority. He played first base on the team last spring. MacGregor was elected manager of the lacroses team.

Brooklyn Defeats the Crescent A. C. Team

in Brooklyn, the elevens of the Crescent Athletic (lub and the Brooklyn Football Club engaged in a stirring contest which drew a good sized crowd to Marquette Oval yesterday afternoon. The Brooklyn Football Club won by 6 goals to 0, giving a brillian exhibition of football. On the other hand, the ('rescents' combination work was somewhat disjointed, though the showing of the individual players sitisfied the onlookers Several former Brooklyn F. C. members figured on the Crescent team, and this circum stance rather increased the interest of the occasion. The Crescents won the toss and elected to begin against the wind. For twenty minutes the Brooklyps were held at bay, but eventually the ball was headed

Shortly after, Capt. C. Watts of the Brooklyns received a batted baseball on the side of his head, but following a brief rest he pluckily resumed the game and made his pluckily resumed the game and made his presence felt. A "corner" allowed at this stage was headed into the net by A. Hampson, inside left for the Brooklyns. Next H. Grant, outside left for Brooklyn, brought the ball down the field and centred high to A. York, who headed to Watts. The captain sent in a speedy one that there was simply no stopping, and the first half ended at 2 goals to 0 in fayor of the Brooklyns. Watts tallied twice more near the beginning of the second period, the first being sent in off Wagner's foot. Grant and A. Danielson contributed the remaining and A. The Crescent A. C. team completed its schedule with yesterday's game, having played in all twenty matches, of which fourteen were won, five lost and one tied, with a total record of seventy-two goals against twenty-eight goals scored by opponents. At the Cove, West New Brighton, the eleven of the Staten Island Football Club took the team of the steamship Carpathia into camp to the tune of 8 goals too, three of these being tallied in each half. W. Sparks monopolized the honors in the opening period, doing all the scoring. In the second half, Sparks added two more, making five in all to his credit. He played at inside left. Centre Halfback J. C. Jenkins contributed the sixth tally.

At Bronx Oval the eleven of the Boys Football Club of this city encountered a team from the steamship Carmania and won a well fought contest by the score of 2 goals to 1. At the end of the first half the score was even at 1 goal for each side, A. G. Santer, centre forward, tallying for the Boys' club while J. Smith evened the score for the sailors. The winning goal was shot by A. Kestler, juside left for the Roys' team.

McBride, Foster and Bowerman all shot into the opposing net. Garvey added another for the Brooklyns.

Champion Demarest at Top of the Class With a Grand Average of 31.22 Gardner 20 Per Cent. Better Than in Pre-

Grand averages made in the recent amateur championship tournament at 14 inch balkline show a general improvement on the part of the crack amateurs. The class of Demarest was distinctly shown by the fact that he grand averaged 21,22 for his five games of the tournament proper. He made the best grand average of the lot and a far better one than amateurs ever have done before. Wright of California came next, and then Conklin, Poggenburg, Gardner and Jackson in the order named. All of them grand averaged double figures, and as an example of the general improvement the case of Gardner will serve. The Passaic player did better by about 20 per cent, than he had done previously in tournaments, this despite the fact that he had been playing 18:2 almost entirely before going to Chicago. The records of the players were Poggenburg.... Jackson There was talk of Demarest turning pro-fessional, but he says he is not going to, and there has been some conjecture among billiard followers as to where amateur players

"Demarest is the strongest amateur player ever developed," says one of his late competitors, "and I firmly believe that in the course of a few years he would improve sufficiently to be in the class with Hoppe and the other crack professionals. He is better to-day than any amateur we ever have seen Reroile play, I think he can beat the Frenchman.

Rerolle play, I think he can beat the Frenchman.

"The way Demarest has been taught to play billiards, his method and position at the table, is such that there is less strain on him than on anybody else, even the professionals. He invariably makes four preliminary strokes of the cue before playing an around the table shot, three preliminary strokes when nursing and two when about to play a masse. There is a mechanical ease about his play that nothing can disturb. If he has the nerve he ought to become one of the greatest of players. How good his nerve is is a matter that has not been thoroughly tested that I know of.

"Wright is a high class player, and if he had not been taken sick the night he was to meet Conklin in the final game of the regular tournament he would have won sure. It was too bad he should have been taken sick just when he had the championship in his pocket. They were betting 3 to I in Chicago that he'd beat Conklin. Conklin, however, has pocket. They were betting 5 to that he'd beat Conklin. Conklin, however, has improved too, and he always was a spiendid

Conklin has agreed to play in the international amateur tournament at 18:2 to be held in New York in April, and Demarest is likely to play, while Wright is considering the matter. Poggenburg of this city will compete and Gardner too if the latter's entry is necessary to make up a field. Rerolle, the Paris expert, is another who will be in the tournament. Speaking of 18:2 one of the national tournament players said the other day: "I have played a good deal of both 18 and 14 inch balk line, and I don't see any difference in the two so far as the difficulty of them goes. It seems to me that one is as hard and no harder than the other."

The grand averages made in this year's amateur tournament are interesting in comparison with other grand averages made by amateurs. In 1899 Martin Mullen made a grand average of 8.30 for 1,200 points, in 1900 Wilson Foss grand averaged 10.44 for 2,000 points, and in 1903 Foss grand averaged 12.13 for 1,500 points. Among the professionals the records show that Jake Schaefer once made an average of 27.41 for 4,000 points. Jake also has a grand average of 18.85 for 1,200 points at the more difficult game of 18:1, so the best amateurs have a good way to go yet before being on even terms with the best pros.

Demarest retained the amateur champion ship on Friday night by defeating H. C.

Demarest retained the amateur champion-ship on Friday night by defeating H. C. Wright in Chicago. The score was 400 to 22. Wright had been under the weather all week and unable to do himself justice. Demarest made a new record run for a ma-teurs at 14 inch balk line of 202. He also made the big average of 30 10-13. Had George Sutton defeated Hoppe last Friday night the chances would have been good for his becoming the permanent owner of the present 18:2 balk line championship trophy. To win an emblem outright a player trophy. To win an emblem outright a player must hold it for two years, and Sutton had had uninterrupted possession of it since October, 1906. Had he won this time he probably wouldn't have been called on to play again before next fall at the earliest. Just how well Hoppe did financially by winning from Sutton is a matter known only to him and to the B. B. C. Company, but as there was a big house and he got all of the net proceeds in addition to $500 he work on the stake, his victory must have netted him a tidy sum.

YALE WANTS NO CREW LAURELS Unless They Be Won From Harvard-That's

Why Cornell Is Ignored. NEW HAVEN, March 28 .- The Yale News has the following to say: "The question was recently asked 'Why does not Yale meet Cornell on the water?' And we are told that this query has often been made. To the majority of Yale men who are interested in such affairs the answer is perfectly plain. but to many others both in and out of Yale our attitude seems unfair.

"In the first place the crew is trained up to a certain point which reaches its culmination in the Harvard race, and it would be practically impossible to put the men in another race at the Poughkeepsie regatts or against Cornell. They would in all probability 'go stale,' while any man who has ever seen the finish of a Yale-Harvard race can easily imagine in what condition the men would be left with two such contests inside a month.

"Certainly it would not add to the physical well being of the already overworked rowers. The cuestion then naturally arises: How does Harvard or Yule send a crew abroad to compete with the English universities? compete with the English universities. The answer here is simple. Neither of these American universities sends a crew abroad more than once every four or five years, while the race being held in August, as a rule, allows the men ample time to get back into shape—conditions which could not exist were Yale to compete with both Harvard and Cornell in one session.

rule, allows the men ampie time to get back into shape—conditions which could not exist were Yale to compete with both Harvard and Cornell in one season.

"The two mile race proposed is hardly a fair offer, nor is it one to which both colleges would agree. No good two mile course can be found, and even if it could a two mile race would hardly be a reasonable test for a four mile crew to undergo.

"And, lastly, there is the Yale sentiment in the matter. The first race with Harvard was held fifty-six years ago, and it is doubtful if Yale would ever give up her oldest and best rival for the sake of defeating some new rival which is supreme in the field of the other colleges. Yale's object is not to turn out a crew which will be proclaimed as the champions of America but one which can defeat Harvard in friendly rivalry. Her efforts are centred on this goal, and with the capturing of it her satisfaction is complete. It is not the feeling that there would be no glory in defeating Cornell, but rather that the glory and compensation which come from defeating Harvard are sufficient."

"R. F. Doherty was much less reliable than his brother: indeed, he can never in his long and brilliant career have given such a poor exhibition. Not only was his service but a feeble imitation of his usual vigorous delivery, but he seemed quite incapable of making a shot of any value off his opponent's service. Add to these defects a partiality to lob into the mouths of Mesare. His confidence, of course, was not improved by the impotency of his brother, and on the whole perhaps he deserves credit for saving the third set. The winners have never combined to more advantage or individually played with greater dash. It was altogether a new experience for Mesers.
